BIG SHIPMENTS OF NEW MEXICO CATTLE

Alamogordo, N. M., May 12.—Spring shipments of cattle from Alamogordo in the past week have aggregated $800 head. The stock has gone to summer pastures. While heavy, the shipments are not so heavy as in former years. The top market prices have been received for the cattle stockmen state.

Among the shippers, were John Snyder, Talisima, 15 carloads, which he bought here. Lee and McElrath; Frank Snyder, 1893 head of steers, purchased from James A. B. & Co. of Dallas. Will from James A. Baird, Felipe Lomero, W. H. McNew, Joseph S. Morgan, G. G. Wofford, J. H. Walker, A. J. Swaps, J. W. Evans, W. C. Longwell and Austin Reeves, W. L. Rutherford, 1000 head, purchased from D. L. Stevens and Jeffers brothers. In addition the Palomas Land & Cattle company shipped 25 head of cows from Bisco station, the stock going to summer pastures in Wyoming.

LARGE SALES MADE AT FORT STOCKTON

Fort Stockton, Texas, May 12.—Pryor & Wilson have sold and delivered 2200 two year old steers to Brothers, Bros. of Memphis, Texas. The shipment was a fine run.

A shipment of 1100 two and three year old steers has been made by Thomas Sanderson to H. I. Spikes, of Benjamin, Texas.

H. D. Mendel has purchased and received 691 two and three year old steers. They will be run on his ranch near here. The shipment is a very good run of stock.

3,000 STEERS TO BE SHIPPED EAST FROM LORDSBURG

Yearlings and 2 Year Olds
Marketed by Arizonans at Good Prices.

Duncan, Ariz., May 12.—Cowmen in this vicinity are now engaged in rounding up their steers, which they will ship from Lordsburg, N. M., on May 25, to eastern markets. It is estimated that 3000 steers in all will be shipped. The steers are all yearlings and two year olds, and will be driven overland to Lordsburg, the loading point. The stock is in good condition and the prices paid are said to have been good.

Among those who will ship cattle on the date mentioned are: G. E. Head, W. F. Willis, Floyd Hightower, J. A. Martin, W. D. McKeown, C. C. Martin, W. T. Witt, Day & Foster, Wm. Cuthbert, Henry Harris and Phil McNair.

SPRING SHIPMENTS OF CATTLE HEAVY

Large Bunches From Nearby Territory
Passing Through El Paso on Way to Pastureland.

Spring shipments of cattle from Arizona, New Mexico and West Texas to north and northwestern pastures are passing through El Paso by the trainload and there are a number of buyers in the city, according to H. G. Sudler, of the El Paso Commission company. E. R. Anderson, livestock agent for the Santa Fe railway, is in the city looking out for the interests of his road.

A number of cattlemen from New Mexico, among them Walter Baird and Ralph Fleck, predict good feeding this year in southern New Mexico. Rain has been abundant and the ranges are in good condition. Most of the stuff sold this year from this section has gone to Kansas and Oklahoma buyers.

So far as actual sales are concerned, there is comparatively little activity, most of it centering on the transportation of cattle from home ranches in the southwest to buyers' pastures in the northwest. Deals for small lots and trailers are as numerous as ever, though, according to cattlemen of the city.

Notice to American Citizens Remaining in Mexico

In order that the whereabouts of Americans remaining in Mexico may be known, and for the purpose of informing inquiring friends and relatives, the government of the United States of America has instructed the consul to ask all American citizens, who, for any reason, did not leave it advisable to leave Mexico at this time, to register their names and addresses, personally, or by written communication, at this consulate, with the least possible delay.

Thos. D. Edwards,
American Consul,
Ciudad Juarez.

The Daily Novelette THE FRUITS OF SUCCESS.

See a pin and pick it up.
All the day you'll have good luck.
Sit on a pin and pick it up.
Is this good luck? I guess not!

STOOPING laboriously from the waist, the old man tottered along with his eyes over the ground. Ever and anon, or occasionally now and then, a glimmer would catch his eye, and he would stoop quickly and pick up something from the pavement and drop it into the tin pail that dangled from his belt.

"They were pins,"

"Pins! Pins! Pins! A person with his eyes passed to the tin pail could have heard them fall with a metallic tinkle among their little brothers and sisters. Some were bent and some were rusty and some had lost their heads in this life's battles, but all were pins."

Another one reached to pick it up, but another hand was before him. He looked up to see a tall youth pushing the pin into his coat lapel and remarking, "They say if you pick up a pin it's good luck. If somebody leaves you a fortune with a wink."

"Oh, my son, give up that pin, I pray you," besought the old man with tears in his eyes. "I'm saving them. I have been saving them for 15 long years. It is my ambition to save a million, and I lack only that one to realize my ambition."

"But," said the youth, "what are you going to do with the million when you get them?"

The old man dropped his hand to his brow.

"Great Heavens!" he whispered. "I never thought of that!"

And much to the youth's annoyance, he fell dead at his feet.

160 Years Ago Today

One hundred years ago today the negotiations for a definitive treaty of peace between France and the allies were practically concluded. Two days later the treaty, which is known in history as the Peace of Paris, was ratified by the powers. The king of Prussia and the emperors of Russia and Austria took part personally in the negotiations, while Lord Castlereagh was present as the representative of the English sovereign. The treaty of Paris did little more than ratify the peace following the abdication of Napoleon and provide for the restoration of the French frontiers to the limits of 1792. The great European questions as to the new formation of states lately conquered or dismembered by Napoleon were mostly referred to the congress which was soon to meet in Vienna.
